

These FHA girls did many worthwhile projects last year and also served at many banquets. Their help was greatly appreciated by everyone. They ended up the year with their annual dress revue which also turned out to be a success.

NP Homemakers

The most important objective suggested in the FHA National Program of Work during the year 1969-70 concerned "decisions that count". NP's FHA Chapter, in meeting the requirements of this objective, asked Mrs. Bee, the school nurse, to speak about the effects of every day living on health.

"Getting to know FHA On the Go" was another objective which was intended to publicize FHA extensively.

The group also helped raise money for a new National FHA Headquarters in Washington, D.C., served several banquets at NP, and sponsored a Daddy-Date-Night.
