

The newspaper staff included D. Wilson, C. Miller, T. Shonkwiler, C. Stoker, W. Kamplain, B. Cook, D. Berry, M. Scobee, R. Proctor, P. Sims, Mrs. Stalker.

One of the busiest persons on the newspaper staff was Diane Wilson who was co-business manager.

“Check the morgue!”

Those mysterious-looking figures who were periodically seen haunting the cafeteria and hallways were none other than COUGAR EXPRESS staff members. The EXPRESS covered virtually every aspect of school life and featured an editorial page where the student body could air its views about issues without fear of being reprimanded. Club news and sports were also given equal time and pictures of Snoopy or unforgivable jokes lined the pages.

In its first year, the COUGAR EXPRESS proved to be a valuable asset to NPHS.

Getting the newspaper out on time was a problem with which editor Bruce Cook had to cope.

Two staff members were hard at work.
