A fast finish meant a winner

The main thought that crosses everyone's mind when "track" is mentioned, is "run, run, run." Although dashes and runs do take a major portion of the activity; track offers more variety than one imagines.

For example--high jump, pole vault, broad jump, and shot put are also included in this field. Contestants are able to display their agility and strength, not to mention their endurance.

Still, track and running are very closely related and there is a good reason. Among this category are the 220, 440, and 880 yard runs; relays; and hurdles.

Track is one sport which offers excitement and enthusiasm to people with many varied interests and goals.

Track team members practiced during all kinds of weather for the spring season.
