

Providing transportation for the entire school corporation are (left to right) David Lane, Paul Grider, Jim Parker, Jack Wright, Betty Wright, Joanne Martin, Sharon Chilcote, Joan Alcorn, Joe Brothers, Barbara Wethington and Raymond Cox.

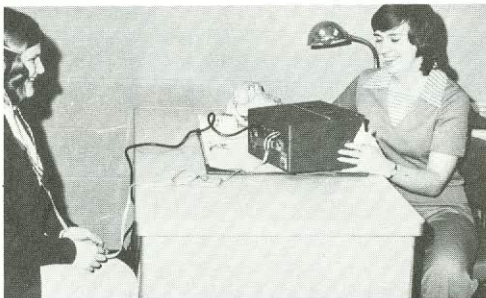

North Putnam cooks decide to try their own creations. (Left to right) Charlene Clifford, Corny Gossett, Madonna Elliott, Linda Faller, Mabel Hart, Geneva Clones (dietician), Beverly Brooks, June Geyer, Jeannie Hayes, Flora Harmless and Judy Stockton.

The student body relies on Mrs. Goad for clean swimsuits and towels, as well as for change from their lunch money.

Mrs. Martin tests the speech and hearing of students of all the corporation schools and provides therapy for those who can benefit from it.

Juggling the schedules of more than 500 students keeps Mrs. Greeson and Mr. Evens more than occupied.

As well as being the nurse at North Putnam, Mrs. Bridges also nurses at the three elementary schools.

