Awards Day on May 16, 1975 ended the 12-year struggle for the graduating seniors. They were honored for various athletic and academic accomplishments.

Graduation two days later made them realize that they must face the challenges of the world ahead. The Rev. Leo Schmidt spoke at the combined Baccalaureate and Commencement ceremony concerning the class motto, "Live Life For All It Has To Give."

The Class was the first to start as 7th graders in the newly-consolidated North Putnam Jr.-Sr. High School. It was also the largest graduating class in the history of the school, having 131 members. So is the feeling of the departing Seniors of 1975.

The class officers for the year were (L to R) Tammy Lashley (Sec.), Max Blackmore (Treas.), Mrs. Steward (Spon.), Rhonda Chaplain (Pres.), and Joe Buser (V. Pres.). They collaborated on many decisions for the class this year.

For Sectional poster competition, the Seniors came up with a giant teddy bear named "Pete."
