

Bicentennial 1776-1976

Based on the tradition of individual freedom and a spirit of enthusiasm for democratic values, the Constitution of our country provides each of us with the unique right to a free education. Due to the planning of our forefathers we exercise freedoms of participation, inquiry, self-expression and competition.

Academic exploration allows intellectual growth. Freedom to teach and learn gives rise to personal growth. Where the spirit of athletic competition thrives, the freedom to participate in inter- and intra-school sports is granted. The rights to select our friends and to strive for excellence are ours.

WHERE THERE IS SPIRIT, THERE IS FREEDOM!
