

The young men who participated in the weight training program often gave up sleeping later in the morning to be at school and working out by 7:00 a.m. Coaches Roe and Russell are extremely proud of this group.

Mike Tyler set a standard by being the only member to attend an entire year without missing a morning. The payoff for their efforts can be seen in their athletic performances.