

Never Quite Like This Before

On August 24, 1983 at 8:35 a.m., 643 students scrambled through the hallways searching for their first hour class. Seventh graders are always anxious to begin and the seniors are anxious to end. Numerous students were absent on Jan. 16, due to illness, and rumors of the school being closed were circulated.

Mr. Schad was introduced to his new "Portable" office called . . . "Bill's Place."

A new attendance policy went into affect, and a few just can't seem to adjust.

New students, new fads, old students, old fads, they all blend together to unite us all into one student body.

The new school year will open with a wider variety of decisions to be made. Curriculum changes, earlier starts, and a longer school day are just a few.

The school wants NPHS students to be prepared to go out and face the real world and to be successful.

The student council sponsored a contest to design a school flag. Just another first during our BIG SENIOR year.

It seems the faculty and even some students have been blessed with babies.

Future students of North Putnam???

Happenings during our SENIOR year have made the class of 84 unique. Events that will be remembered and some that would be soon forgotten. The scenes change but . . . ONLY THE SENIORS OF 84 WILL LEAVE NPHS . . . NEVER QUITE LIKE THIS AGAIN!!!
