The over-looked North Putnam Golf team, Coached by Mr. Bays, seems to reduce in size every year. This seasons only senior, led the team with an incompetition score of 44, which he achieved during a match with Monrovia. Our junior, Rod Davis, held fifth place in our pack of golfers with a low of 52. Sophomores dominated the team by contributing classmates John Stecher, Rita Hess, and Matt Hazlett. Both John and Rita were expected to break 50. Freshman Brent Fowler was second to Kevin with a game low of 45 accompanied by fellow freshman Mike Jackson. Mr. Bays' said "the main flaw of his team was a lack of confidence". He reported that most players were shooting about 10 shots lower during practice than in competition. Coach Bays urged the 6 golfers who were participating to return to play the following year and to keep their game up during the summer.
