

Students at Play

Pep band expresses its Cougar spirit.

Life Begins At 3:27

The students at North Putnam just couldn't seem to wait until that last and final bell to ring. The students just scattered all over the building. Some left to go to work, while many stayed after school to help out with the play, or go to practices in some kind of sport, or other activities.

Some of the students were in many activities after school, such as wrestling, basketball or cheerleading practice. Many students stayed after to help rehearse for the plays. Many helped to prepare the pep bands, and pep rallies.
