

Social Studies

When asking Mr. Bill Brothers what types of things are taught in Social Studies he says, "Values of the world in which we have lived, do live and will continue to live."

During the year in social studies class with Mr. Brothers, you will do maps of Putnam County and of the state of Indiana, book reports, and projects which you can use your imagination and creativity. In the past students have made forts, canoes, movies, and more dealing with a certain time period.

Mr. Brothers believes that students get more motivated with their work if he asks them to do something instead of telling them.

by Brandi Call

Josh Abdon studies the map for a quiz.

Right: Bill Bays, Ron Price
Middle: Bill Brothers, Tom Roach
Bottom: Barbra Norman, Roger Cook

Feel like being another Picasso? If so then you can get your start in Mrs. G's art class.

In art you learn to paint with watercolors and acrylics, you also learn to draw with a lot of different kinds of media such as pencil, charcoal, pastels, and ink. You can learn how to make Lino prints and work with clay.

During the year you get chances to see how good of an artist you are by entering art contests. This year Adam Barker, Jeremy Staley, Mary Rutherford, Jeremy Butler, and JC Malicoat won prizes at the Putnam County Art League and Kim Hemmerlien and Jeremy Butler won prizes at the Congressional Art Exhibit.

by Brandi Call

Christy Cline is demonstrating how to paint a picture.

Art

Linda Gjesvold