

PROM 1992

'Till The Clock Strikes Twelve.

After weeks of deciding where to eat, where to go the day after, what picture package to buy, who to go with, what kind of jewelry to wear, where to get the right tux, when to pick her up, what kind of flowers, what car to drive, and how to afford all of this, it was finally time to dress up and go out . . . to the prom!

Everyone drank punch and ate cookies while the D.J. played the most popular music for those people who wanted to dance. After the garter ceremony and everyone had their picture taken, Kristie and Brian Spear were crowned King and Queen.

The theme was "Till the Clock Strikes Twelve." The gym was decorated with a castle, a large clock, a lighted hanging clock, a carriage, and many stars. The fun ended when the clock struck twelve.
