

We will always have memories

Our senior year was a challenge. To get this point, we had to study a lot and try to get into a college of our choice. Some of us chose to join some clubs and sports or just bum off for the year, but we often sacrificed our grades with that.

Graduation is the biggest event of every seniors' year. After we graduate every senior will go his or her separate way. We lose our friends, our classmates, and, that is when we question, "What does life hold for me in the real world?" This question goes through almost every seniors' mind. Some see love as an ingredient to survive. Love is what gives us that exciting feeling and makes the world go round. Some see a successful career in the world for them and some just want to bum off.

But, for all of us, we shared wonderful memories!
