

Graduation '94

Tracey Schraub, Paris Riggen, and Bob Miller spend a few quiet moments waiting for the big moment.

"It's time to get this show on the road." (Matt Buchanan, Brad Batman, Erin Turpin. Nikki Spencer in background.)

North Putnam's gymnasium was the site for the ceremony. Ninety students graduated.

Graduates light candles to symbolize a shared hope.

Vanessa Scobee, valedictorian. In her speech, Vanessa thanked her parents and advised, "If you put God first in your life, all other things will fall into place."

Charity Boller, salutatorian. Charity gave credit to Mr. Zerkel. "He made extreme changes to ordinary routines," Charity said. However, she said the changes were for the best.
