

"REALITY 101"

Three big screens with nine cassettes and movies were used to show the video presentation "REALITY 101." "REALITY 101," the fall convocation, portrayed what teenagers have to cope with in today's world with drugs, sex, peer pressure, and parents.

The faculty and Camfel Productions co-sponsored REALITY 101." They wanted this convocation to be successful so that we could have more of them. They wanted the student body to take control of the school and be able to look to the staff and faculty as "helpers" in making decisions.

Jeff Henderson, Andy Sutton, Jeff Reed, Kris Howell, Cory Clark, Sam Green, Paul Schubert, and Craig Robertson arrived at school at 7:00 a.m. to help unload the moving truck and assemble the set. These early risers were rewarded the following Monday with a dinner at Pizza Hut.

Christian Edition performed at the spring convocation. They sung many inspirational songs that filled the gymnasium and halls of the school. Students from other schools in the area also participated in the Christian Edition convocation. ☯ By Crystal Mudgett

The crowd watches REALITY 101, the fall convocation, with enthusiasm.

Several students help assemble the set of REALITY 101.

Scott Curran cracks a joke at the Christian Edition convocation.

