

BACK HOME AGAIN

By: C.J. Wintermute

Homecoming is a time of frenzied activity at North Putnam as students and staff show their school spirit.

Spirit Week started off with the traditional Hall Decorating Contest which is a competition between the classes. The seniors designed a wall size newspaper appropriately named the Cougar Tabloid. Juniors staged a protest in the halls complete with hanging beads, headbands, and peace signs. Sophomores were seen country line dancing down the hallways as they chose a western theme. The freshmen hall had a chilling effect on people as they walked by a tombstone and an open grave which contained the skeletal remains of a Cascade player.

Each day of Spirit Week had a different theme. Cougar fans participated in Hat Day, Opposite Day, Backwards Day, Blue and Orange Day, and one day even some "hicks" were seen in the halls.

"I enjoyed Opposite Day; it let my true self shine," said Jesse Duncan.

"Decorating the halls and the pep session where everyone got involved were my favorites," commented Tiffany Thomas.

"Seeing how funny people looked on Opposite Day and winning the game is what I enjoyed," said Tony Braeger.

-Several juniors are filled with peace and love as they stage a 60's protest. They were competing in the Spirit Week Hall Decorating Contest.

Michael Elliott shows off his pretty red dress. He wore it during Opposite Day .