

DAILY

NORTH PUTNAM BEEHIVE OF ACTIVITIES

What a wild and crazy year it was at North Putnam!

The first big event of the year was Fall Homecoming. Students had a great time participating in Spirit Week. Many students dressed their worst to look their best. There was Hat Day which brought out some strange looking head gear. 80's/Nerd Day, Pajama Day, where we got to see what people look like when they roll out of bed in the morning, Hick

Day, which probably had the biggest turnout, and Blue and Orange Day where everyone displayed their school spirit.

Christmas celebrations were cut short this year due to snow as school was dismissed before the scheduled Christmas break. Our vacation was also extended several days because Mother Nature dumped nearly 30 inches of snow during our time off. So many days were missed that semester final exams were cancelled and made optional so that students who wanted to could take them. Yeah Right!

This year saw new additions to the curriculum, building and grounds, and the way we do things. A new TV studio brought us WNPC News and an electronic bulletin board. The new Outdoor Lab began to take shape, and Mrs. Norman started a recycling program to raise scholarship money.

Aloha! Several of the seniors chant for a skit during an outdoor pep session at the football field. The senior's theme for homecoming was a Hawaiian luau.

Cupid Strikes! Flowers, balloons and teddy bears await the end of the day for some lucky students to pick them up. The nurse's room became a temporary storage area for the Valentine gifts.