

Ashie "Bug"

Remember when you were in kindergarten and was just learning how to spell your name. You remember your teacher telling you that not only were you spelling your name wrong, but that was not your name. You were so mad at that teacher and cried, you cried for weeks. Come to find out the more me and your Dad thought about it we realized that not only had we ever called you by your real name (Ashley Michelle), but we never told you your real name. Now it's twelve years later and you're still our "Ashie Bug." This is just one of many, many memories we have of you. If we had to raise you all over again we would in a heart-beat. We are so proud of you and love you so much.

Love,
Mom and Dad

Ashley Clifford

Scott,

It has been a long hard road. Even though it seems only yesterday you were first a little boy. You have been a blessing. No parent could be prouder than we are of you. The Lord is by your side, May your faith stay strong no matter what comes.

Love Always,
Mom and Dad

Scott Brock

