

Fall Play

"The Man Who Came To Dinner"

The fall play for this year was "The Man Who Came to Dinner". This play was about a man named Sheridan who is on the Stanley family's front porch when he slips on a piece of ice and breaks his hip. Sheridan is now forced to be in a wheelchair and the Stanleys take him into their home. The family loves him until Sheridan decides to take over and begins to boss everyone around. This play is a twisted one because the characters plot against each other. This play was directed by Mrs. Linda Gjesvold (on the right).

Check 1,2,3. Check. Amanda Winger prepares the microphones for the broadcast along with Jessica Mitchell on the soundboard. Ok New York.....
