Forks and Strings

The Class of 2003 didn't leave NPHS without pulling one last prank, with each graduate presenting Principal Alan Zerkel with a fork, smuggled out of the cafeteria late in the semester. (From left) Krystal Parker gets a hug, David Schultz points out his gift, and Denver McMurtry shows he didn't "chicken" out. The graduation was also not without some silly string as Tress Goode sprays his classmates, and Amanda Genaro is veiled in a stringy mess.
