

Winter Guard

"Phantom of the Opera"

The Winter Guard got new instructors for the first time since the Winter Guard got started. The new instructors are Brianne Rowan and Allisha Barton. Both of these girls were North Putnam graduates and were both involved in the guard while they were in high school. The girls had fun putting a fun hip hop theme on the music from the "Phantom of the Opera." The year was rough at times but it is sure to give the girls many great memories.
