

ASHLEY McCOLLOUGH

Ashley (Sweetpea),

WOW! I have so many mixed feelings as you get closer to your final days in high school. I am so proud of the special person our baby girl has grown up to be. I am both sad and excited as you begin your "new adventure" (as Tammy would say) to college life. You have so many beautiful qualities and I am confident you'll take your compassion and caring attitude and make a difference in someone's life someday. I love you more than you can begin to imagine and being your mom and friend has been the best thing I could have ever hoped for. We are truly blessed.

Love, Mom and Dad

TABITHA CLIFFORD

Well Poot, you're it! The last of the Clifford girls, (the Baby), and what a baby you were. Darcy and Ashley were like your second mom. Every single day for years they loved to dress you in the mornings, brush your hair, tie your shoes, and would just play with you for hours. You name it, they did it. And then one day they went off to high school and it was like your life ended. You couldn't do anything without your sisters. So as you entered high school, you learned to find yourself. Now as I look in my heart, I see that baby, but when I look at you today, I see a very beautiful young lady who is so independent, strong willed and has absolutely everything going for her. We are so proud of you and love you sooooo much.

Love,
Mom, Dad, Darcy, Ashley
