Matthew Gene Couchman

"Your life is recorded through people's eyes. So be how you want to be, not what they want to see."

David Douglas Church

"I think football's a primal game. It goes back to the stone age. There were cavemen back then who hid in the back of the cave and would sneak around. There were other cavemen who took a club in their hand and went out and kicked somebody's butt with it and took what they wanted to take. You have to learn to come out of the cave with your club in your hand, and get after it to take what you want to be successful in the game (football)."
