

Our year in fall sports

During the 2008 fall sports season, we had victories and losses, but still came out holding our heads up high. After several pep rallies, tailgating and numerous body paintings, our community is closer than ever.

Jon Taggart (right) plays his best during a soccer game.

The North Putnam students cheer on their football players during senior night.

The volleyball girls go in for a huddle before they begin their game.

Our lady runners Hillary Salyers and Dakota Parent work hard to finish a cross country meet.
